NEWS RELEASE

Title: POLICE PUBLISHING Division Created with Hiring of Editor for POLICE TECHNICAL, Brianne Hofmann

Short Title: New Editor Hired for POLICE TECHNICAL and POLICE PUBLISHING

Date of Release: May 12, 2014

POLICE TECHNICAL hired Brianne Hofmann as Editor on May 5, 2014. Hofmann will breathe life into the company by heading POLICE PUBLISHING, a division created just last year.

In its infancy, POLICE PUBLISHING has released several technical guides exploring unique avenues in the law enforcement field. With Hofmann's hiring, POLICE PUBLISHING is releasing more publications, including white papers, books, and news releases.

Among her first projects are technical manuals on cell phone investigations and warrantless searches and seizures.

"As POLICE TECHNICAL expands to meet its students' needs, an abundance of material will flow through here," Hofmann said. "I'm excited to be a part of the entire process and help this company grow."

In the future, Hofmann envisions building a publishing team while continuing to play an active role in the editing process.

Thomas Manson, Founder and CEO of POLICE TECHNICAL, said her skills and prior experience as editor-in-chief of her university newspaper will help move POLICE TECHNICAL forward in the law enforcement community.

"POLICE TECHNICAL is dedicated to training. We needed to improve the quality of training materials for law enforcement and therefore we needed an editor," Manson said. Hofmann recently received her bachelor's in English from Indiana State University where she was Editor-in-Chief for the school paper, The Indiana Statesman.

POLICE TECHNICAL is a national law enforcement training company located in Terre Haute, Ind. The company currently employs 17 instructors, who teach and maintain 15 courses in five Certification Tracks.
