NEWS RELEASE

Title: POLICE TECHNICAL Creates Community for Law Enforcement Personnel with Hiring of Spencer May

Short Title: POLICE TECHNICAL Hires Web Developer, Spencer May

Date of Release: January 10, 2014

On January 3, 2014, POLICE TECHNICAL hired Spencer May as the company's Web Developer.

He has been hired to make POLICE TECHNICAL more accessible for students, instructors, and hosts by revamping the current service system. The new system, COMMUNITY, is expected to be released by the beginning of August 2014.

"I will be making the current system better and make it fit POLICE TECHNICAL's needs," May said. "COMMUNITY makes the overall process simpler and provides a place for everyone to cooperate more efficiently."

With this new system, all users of the POLICE TECHNICAL website benefit from the easier interface. Also, each user has a secure login to view their individual progress and participate in forums.

Thomas Manson, Founder and CEO of POLICE TECHNICAL, said the company was looking for a developer that understood how to code and was also able to interact with the rest of the office.

"Spencer May brings a unique skill set in developing online registration systems," Manson said.

Manson said that, with May's status as a student, POLICE TECHNICAL will gain access to relevant programming languages as well as techniques that are still developing.

In the future, May will be tasked with more projects Manson hopes will help him grow as a Web Developer.

"Future projects will be in the area of multi-agency communication and service," Manson said.

May said he is excited about the changes and the never ending work that will keep him busy. The improvements May is making to the POLICE TECHNICAL system will create better ways for law enforcement to work together.

May is from Terre Haute, Ind., and is currently enrolled at Indiana State University, majoring in Computer Science.

POLICE TECHNICAL is a national law enforcement training company located in Terre Haute, Ind. The company currently employs 12 instructors, who teach and maintain 10 courses in five Certification Tracks.
